

I use to hate answering my phone at home, especially around dinner time because of the telemarketers. I've been so happy with the no call list! Please, please don't get rid of it.